ALPHA CORPORATION WINS NPS ST. LOUIS ARCH CONTRACT

ST. LOUIS, MO, July 3, 2014: Alpha Corporation, a professional engineering/construction management firm, has been selected by the National Park Service (NPS) to provide construction management services for the rehabilitation of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial Gateway Arch. The scope and magnitude of this endeavor will comprise seven key areas of focus centered around the Museum of Westward Expansion and Old Courthouse, including sitework and landscaping. The total value of this three-year program is $250 million with projects ranging in cost from $5 million to $100 million each. Specifically, Alpha Corporation will oversee management of the following phases:

- South Grounds: Construction of new landscape, including removal and replacement of the existing tree allee' with a 16-month duration;
- North Grounds: Construction scope is similar to those for the South Grounds with a 17-month duration anticipated;
- Visitor Center/Museum: New 45,000 SF addition onto the existing underground visitor center as well as renovation of the original facility. Duration is estimated to be 24 months;
- Luther Ely Smith Square/Park over Highway: Demolition of existing site features and construction of new pathways and landscape with a 12-month duration anticipated;
